

PetSuites Daycare - a Balanced Approach

Doggie daycare is an ever-growing, ever-needed service for a busy dog-owner. Certainly the primary function is to give your dog a safe and entertaining environment. The additional benefits are that your dog gets to interact with other like-minded canines. It's really a win-win for owner and pet. But what happens if your canine isn't the life of the party, what is she's a little shy? Until now, most daycare facilities have only common areas – your dog doesn't have a private spot to relax and get away from the pack. Now there is a program that offers a more balanced day – read below to find out how PetSuites approaches daycare!

PetSuites has created a balanced approach to canine daycare. Each guest receives his or her own private room for eating, sleeping, lounging or some good old-fashion dog-watchin! We believe it's critical for your pet to have private space and time during the day. We will provide safety, care and entertainment for your dog. For many dogs the centerpiece of daycare is the socialization - the sniffing, barking, chasing and general canine tom-foolery! Other dogs simply prefer the company of humans and we provide our one-on-one individual playtimes for those guests. Here's a sample of a typical daycare experience:

- Morning outside potty break
- Breakfast! (We have several varieties of Iams®, or you may bring your own pre-packaged portions)
- Morning nap
- Mid-morning outdoor group or individual playtime (weather permitting*)
- Noontime nap
- Afternoon outdoor group or individual playtime (weather permitting*)
- Late afternoon nap
- Dinner, if requested
- Evening outside potty break

 If it's just too rainy or stormy to play outside, we'll use our beautiful indoor play area.*

Potty breaks are always outside.
